DEAR STUDENTS, STAFF, AND PARENTS.

If you want innovation in the world, you must start the revolution by yourself. If you expect others to listen and be understanding, You must listen and really try to understand. If each one of us adapts oneself according to our own expectations from others, then whole society would become what is desired. If one wants that others should talk to him/her politely, then others also expect the same from him/her. So, if each one starts speaking politely to others by bringing change in oneself, then obviously the whole society will change, and that too on desirable lines.

WARM REGARDS,

MS. VANAJA
PRINCIPAL

PRINCIPAL’S MESSAGE

Change begins within us. If we aspire for a better world—one filled with kindness, honesty, and progress—we must embody these values in our daily lives. Every small act of discipline, respect, and responsibility contributes to shaping a brighter future.

As a school, we believe in nurturing young minds not just with knowledge, but with the right values to lead and inspire. Let us strive to be the change-makers, setting examples through our actions, attitudes, and dedication to excellence.

Our dedicated team of educators ensures that every child not only excels academically but also grows into a responsible, compassionate, and confident individual.

Pink Day Celebration

Avis news bites@Avis: On 3rd Jan.it was an incredible day at Balvatika Wing as they celebrated Pink Day in the most vibrant way possible.The color pink continues to be a popular color in fashion, design, and branding, often used to convey a sense of playfulness, charm, and softness.

The Little stars came dressed in the cutest pink attire, ready to spread love and joy all around. They had a blast with exciting action games that got everyone moving, laughing, and working together, the fun never stopped.

The classrooms were bursting with pink toys that added a playful touch to the day, and had a Palm Print in Pink activity where the kids used their hands to create beautiful art.

And of course, the highlight of the day was— pink tulips painted by the little artists themselves. Their creativity was as bright as their smiles.

Educational Field Trip to the Post Office

Avis news bites@Avis: On 8th Jan.our Balvatika students had an exciting field trip to the local Post Office. It was a fantastic hands-on experience where they learned all about the important work that happens behind the scenes in sending and receiving mail.Here’s what the little explorers discovered:

- How letters are sorted and delivered

- The different types of mail we can send (and how it gets to its destination)
- How to write and address envelopes properly
- The role of postal workers in our community
The kids were amazed to see how the mail moves from one place to another and even got a chance to ask questions and interact with the friendly postal staff.

Educational trip to Parle G and Masqati dairy

Avis news bites@Amberpet: On 8th Jan. As a part of the Educational field trip, students of AVIS Grade IV accompanied along with respective class teachers visited Masqati Dairy and Parle Biscuit factory on the 8th of January 2025. The students of Grade IV embarked on an exciting field trip to Masqati Dairy and Parle-G Factory. The trip aimed to provide students with hands-on learning experience, showcasing the processes involved in milk processing and biscuit manufacturing.

The day began with a visit to Masqati Dairy, where students were warmly welcomed by the staff. They were taken on a guided tour of the facility, explaining the various stages of milk processing, from pasteurization to packaging. Students were fascinated by the massive milk storage tanks and the automated machinery used for bottling and packaging

The highlight of the visit was the sampling of fresh milk and dairy products, which the students thoroughly enjoyed. They also learned about the importance of hygiene and sanitation in the dairy industry. At the last, the students were treated with cool ice cream and chilled Badam milk.

The students returned to school with big smiles, excited to share their experiences with their classmates. The trip was a resounding success, and we look forward to many more such learning experiences in the future.

SANKRANTHI CELEBRATIONS – “Festival of Harvest.”

Avis news bites@Avis: On 10 Jan AVIS resonated with the celebrations of Sankranti. Makar Sankranti celebrates the season of plenty and prosperity. It marks the end of the cold winters and ushers in the spring season. Makar Sankranti is a joyous festival celebrated in India to mark the transition from winter to longer days. It is a time for embracing new beginnings and expressing gratitude for the abundant harvest and the blessings of the sun.

During the Sankranti celebrations the school organised rangoli, kite making and kite flying competition for Grades III to IX. The response was overwhelming where the students participated in large numbers.

The rangoli-making competition saw teams coming up with creative ways to express their thoughts. The kite flying competition was a treat to the eyes where students showcase their skills. The sky turned into a painter's canvas with the vibrant colours of kites soaring up

Micro Teaching

Avis news bites@Avis: The art of teaching does not merely involve a simple transfer of knowledge from one to another. Instead, it is a complex process that facilitates and influences the process of learning. Microteaching can be practiced with a very small lesson or a single concept. Micro teaching plays a vital role in the professional development of teachers.

On 9 January Akshara Vaagdevi International School initiated with micro teaching across Grades from Balvatika to X for all the subject teachers. Science was the first department to go with micro teaching followed by Math, English, Social and Telugu. At the end of the micro teaching teachers were given a feedback by the other department teachers. Principal ma'am also gave her valuable feedback which included effective assessment practices.
